

FIRST CALL

2nd REGIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON
PLANNING
AIR QUALITY IN CITIES

Sarajevo, 3rd and 4th February 2022

invitation

Association of Consulting Engineers of Bosnia and Herzegovina, in collaboration with the consulting organization CETEOR, organizes a Symposium on Air Quality in Cities on 3rd and 4th
February 2022, which has regional character.

The goal of this event is to gather at one place knowledge bearers from the field of air quality management and representatives of the institutions whose task is to look after this field in order to jointly determine optimal and possible activities aimed at improving air quality in short and long term period.

The above-mentioned goal is to be achieved through the transmission of knowledge and experience among experts of different profiles so that available knowledge, models, tools and experiences of good practices be integrated in specific action plans aimed at improving air quality in cities.

In line with the set goals the Symposium will address the following key areas of air quality management:

- Air quality management systems
- Spatial planning from the aspect of air quality
- Computer modelling and simulation of atmospheric processes in cities and at long distances
- Observation of emissions and ambient concentration of pollutants and atmospheric parameters
- Measures for reducing emissions of pollutants in industry, traffic, building sector and production of electrical power
- Health impact assessment

Event format will be harmonized with the epidemiological situation.
